Sharon Laine For Release: 9/8/2016

Spiritual Care Guild of Children's Hospital Los Angeles

Oktoberfest Gets Spiritual This September

Pasadena, CA: Join the fun and raise a stein as the Spiritual Care Guild of Children's Hospital Los Angeles honors Reverend Dagmar Grefe, Ph.D, at our upcoming September 17th Oktoberfest.

This year's celebration will take place in Altadena at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ryan Candelora whose home will be transformed into a German beer garden for the evening. We will be honoring Reverend Dagmar Grefe, Ph.D, for her tireless support of both the guild and the hospital. Funds raised at this event will allow the Spiritual Care Guild to continue in its mission to provide interfaith spiritual care services 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to the 150,000 families that come to Children's Hospital Los Angeles each year. The Spiritual Care Chaplains comfort minds, warm hearts and nourish souls of the patients, their families and the health care professionals in times of fear and uncertainty.

We at the Spiritual Care Guild of Children's Hospital Los Angeles try to live out this quote from the Blessed Mother Teresa of Calcutta,

"Speak tenderly to them. Let there be kindness in your face, in your eyes, in your smile, in the warmth of your greeting. Always have a cheerful smile. Don't only give your care, but give your heart as well."

The Oktoberfest is being held on September 17, 2016 starting at 5:30 pm with tickets $75.00 per person. For more information, please go to www.oktoberfest.eventbrite.com. We hope to see you there!